

Establishing a Windmill Power Generation Farm

A shortage of reliable electrical power is a perplexing problem in emerging markets and it limits the development of industry and economic growth. This project plans to develop a Windmill Power Generation Farm to overcome this power shortage. The proposed plan is to generate 2000MV of electricity at the initial stage.